Make Change in Tax Collection Methods

New Law States Taxes Unpaid After May 1st Subject to Lien.

NO 'UNSEATED' LANDS

Attention of Borough property owners is called by Tax Collector Edwin P. Dold to a new act passed by the State Legislature making a drastic change in the method of collection of delinquent taxes.

According to this law, properties on which taxes are unpaid by May 1 of the year following that for which they are levied, will be subject to lien.

This act virtually takes the matter out of the tax collector's hands as he is required to make a return to the county commissioners of all unpaid taxes.

A recent interpretation by the county authorities declared that there were no unseated lands in Montgomery County, which means that any properties, whether improved with real estate or in any other way, are classed as seated lands, and subject to the jurisdiction of the new act.

While Mr. Dold, the Borough Tax Collector, is not required to make public announcement of such a change in the law, he is doing it in accordance with his policy of keeping taxpayers informed of measures affecting their interests.

Stress Conservation in Women's Clubs

Program Arranged For February 4th Meeting to Be on This Topic.

The Conservation Department in the General Federation of Women's Clubs is one of the most active departments. It covers in its work a large scope, mainly the preservation of natural beauties of the countryside.

Elimination of billboards, unsightly wayside stands, preservation of natural beauties about large cities, are a few of its aims. Miles of beautiful trees have been planted and wild flowers have been sown by the roadsides of the country. Bird sanctuaries have been acquired and this year the Pennsylvania Federation of Women's Clubs has purchased "Hearts Content," a piece of land bordering the Pennsylvania national park, which will add a great deal to the beauty of this park

Girl Flyer, on Distance Hop, Lands in Merion

A young lady making a solo flight from Bridgeport, Conn., to Miami, Fla., was forced down on a field in the Shortridge estate near Bowman and Wynnewood Avenues, Merion, last Thursday afternoon when unable to locate air markings due to the snow and growing dusk.

The plane, an English made "Avion", suffered damage to its fuselage and was shipped to Bridgeport for repairs. It will be re-shipped here and the flyer will resume her flight to Miami.

The aviatrix, Miss Helen Cox, of Hagerstown, Md., is a licensed pilot in the employ of the Whittlesey Manufacturing Company of Bridgeport.

Gadsden Urges Co-operation to Avoid Waste At Federation of Churches' Annual Meeting

About 300 persons braved the storm Monday night to attend the Annual Open Meeting of the Main Line Federation of Churches. Rev. Andrew Much, pastor of the Bryn Mawr Presbyterian Church, presided. Dr. Mutch has been actively connected with this organization since its inception more than eighteen years ago. His wise leadership has been recognized by his having held the office of President for three different periods.

Philip H. Gadsden, President of the Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce in the principal address of the evening pointed out that while introduction of machines in many instances had lessened the need for man-power, the invention and production of machines

Jane Stevens, Ingeborg Thaysen, Betty Kennedy, Dorothy Moore, Ella Harnden and Patricia Stevens are in charge.

Legion Holds First Meeting in Newly-Furnished Room

Last Monday evening the Harold D. Speakman Post, No. 356, Narberth, held its first meeting in the newly furnished legion room. The weather was rather cold and sloppy, but the meeting was just the reverse and in spite of the weather there was a very nice turnout.

This was the first meeting held under the new plan governing all future regular meetings. This plan is to have all the heavy business taken care of at the executive committee meeting which any member of the post is invited to attend. This meeting is one week before the regular meeting.

At the regular meeting (the last Monday of every month) there will be a short, snappy business session consisting of the report of the action of the executive committee, special reports, good of the Legion, etc. The meeting will then be taken over by the entertainment committee, who will have a speaker or entertainment of some kind, refreshments and after that, the meeting turned over to sociability, which includes playing cards and other games as they are added to the club equipment.

"This is a mighty fine plan and worked out great Monday night," says a Legionnaire. "A good time was had by all." Ask anyone who was there."

A new community organization came into being last Friday night when residents of the section lying on the outskirts of Wynnewood, Narberth, Merion and Cynwyd met at the Merion Tribute House and organized the Penn Valley Association.

This territory, while all a part of Lower Merion Township, is not closely related to any of the above mentioned communities which it ad-joins. The new association proposes to create a new Main Line community, distinct from those now existing.

The aims and purposes of the new organization as set forth by one of its officers are as follows: "The Association proposes not only to set up this new community, but to make every effort to preserve the natural beauty of the section, and to enhance its charms and values by the erection of artistic signs, street markers and lights; to beautify it by attractive planting; to encourage the building of adequate roads and sewers and to see that it is adequately served with the necessary public utilities."

W. D. Fuller, of Righters Mill Road, secretary of the Curtis Publishing Company, was elected president of the new organization; Eugene Jordan, of Woodbine Avenue, was elected vice president; M. R. Kondolf, of Wellington Road, secretary, and E. Burke Wilford, of Bryn Mawr Avenue, treasurer.

The Executive Committee consists of the following: Frank H. Mancill, Merion; J. Bruce Byall, Bryn Mawr Avenue; James F. Magee, Jr., the Magee Estate; Richard T. Dooner, Bryn Mawr Avenue; A. E. Wohler, Montgomery Avenue; George E. Bartol, Jr., Gulph Road; Rev. Gibson Bell, Montgomery School, and Dr. R. S. Boles, Woodbine Avenue.

The boundaries of the section now to be known as Penn Valley are as follows: Beginning at Montgomery Avenue and McClenaghan's Mill Road northwest to Mill Creek Road, east on Mill Creek Road to State, east on State to Manayunk, south on Manayunk to the north boundary of the development known as Merion Park, west on the Merion Park line and on a similar line extended until it reaches Montgomery Avenue, west on Montgomery Avenue to the point of beginning, containing in all an area of about five square miles.

Congratulated

Birthday congratulations were extended Tuesday to Colonel A. A. Keesler, proprietor of the Narberth Hardware Company and president of the Narberth Board of Trade.

Walzer to Speak

Magistrate Fred Walzer, of Narberth, will be the speaker Sunday night at the meeting of the Young Peoples' Fellowship of All Saints Church, Wynnewood.

The meeting will begin at 7 instead of 6:30 as formerly.

The service will start on February 6, and will continue each Thursday evening until June 12. These meetings are being held under the joint auspices of the churches in Wayne, and a hearty invitation is extended to every one in the Philadelphia suburban territory.

A Novel Radio Experiment

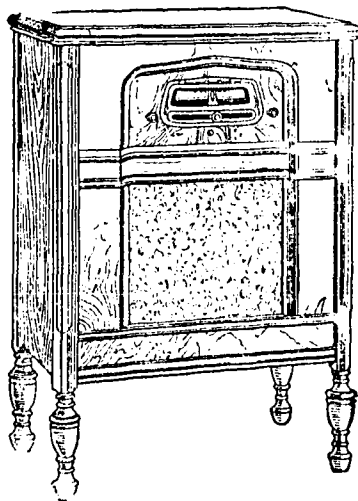

... and a Gorgeous Radio Program

Broadcast by Victor over a nation-wide chain

VICTOR RADIO
ELECTROLA RE-45

The complete, modern musical instrument. Victor Radio and record reproduction through same matchless amplifying system. Musically, there is no greater Victor instrument.

VICTOR RADIO R-52
 Victor Radio in a luxurious period cabinet. Equipment same as R-32; cabinet of rare and finely-wrought woods.

Remember the date—and these facts:

In all broadcasting, before the advent of Victor Radio, it had been necessary to make allowances for the shortcomings of radio-reproducing instruments. Practically all radio receivers have been unable to give true reproduction to low tones; many were defective in the upper section of the scale, and a great majority gave uneven reproduction throughout the tonal register.

Now—No Compromise with purity of tone!

Victor's Thursday evening program of February 13th will be a merciless test of radio reception. In many details and features—all of them entertaining and incidentally, highly instructive—this broadcast will be unique. Famous entertainers will be on the program. The brilliant high notes of the scale, in various instruments will be fearlessly broadcast. The mighty sonority of the low-voiced instruments will be put on the air. The difficult instruments—the difficult intonations of the human voice, such as "s" and "f" sounds, will be broadcast just as if all receivers could reproduce them. But—

Only those who have Victor Radio can hear this sensational program

—really hear it, exactly as it sounds at the microphone. For no radio, at any price, of any design, has VICTOR RADIO TONE. No radio can reproduce, as Victor does, the lower and upper extremes of the musical scale. And no radio gives the balanced, uniform performance over the entire scale that characterizes Victor Radio. Those who hear this Victor broadcast on Victor Radio will hear radio performance as it really can and should be—real, vital, colorful, brilliant.

You Can Hear This Great Broadcast—Free—on Victor Radio IN YOUR OWN HOME

We have made arrangements to provide a great many people in this community with an opportunity to hear this history-making broadcast on Victor Radio in their own homes. We will place the instrument in your home, for you to test and compare, as you will, on Victor's or any other broadcast. The cost to you is nothing; and you are not obliged to buy the instrument. But we want you to discover, for yourself, that Victor Radio has totally revolutionized broadcast reception. We want you to discover the new world of enjoyment that Victor Radio will give you. Come in and select your instrument!

influential part of the district covered by this organization. Mr. Kieffer has been an active member of the Executive Committee for ten years. At different times he has filled special offices notably that of chairman of the finance committee, and for the last two years that of vice-president. Mr. Kieffer is well informed as to the policies, aims and ideals of the organization. The vice-presidents are Rev. Samuel Mac Adams, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, Narberth, and Rev. Ernest C. Earp, of the Church of the Redeemer, Bryn Mawr. Edward Y. Hartshorne, Haverford, and Curtis L. Clay, Ardmore, will continue to serve as treasurer and secretary, respectively.

Miss Alice H. Ambler, executive secretary, reported the activities of the organization during the year and some of the social problems that had been confronted in expressing Christian neighborliness. She stated that 616 persons or families had received service in some form. Miss Ambler expressed appreciation not only of the inspiration and counsel given her by the officers and executive committee but of the fine spirit of co-operation existing between the social agencies in the community. The social welfare work on the Main Line could not be done effectively if it were not for the combined efforts of the churches, clubs, schools, public and private agencies, professional and business men and other individuals all eager to extend a helping hand to their less fortunate neighbors. Unemployment and ills resulting from it are perhaps the most acute problems at present with which the Federation is grappling and is seeking the aid of business men of the community to solve.

Dr. Mutch spoke appreciatively of the services rendered the organization by Miss Evelina C. Walbaum and Mrs. Harold How who, though they no longer carry the responsibility of executive-secretaryship, do continue to contribute freely of their time, energy and counsel. The fact that more money is spent by this organization for what is usually termed overhead expense than that for actual financial relief to families is as it should be, according to Dr. Mutch. He believes that fundamental causes of social ills should be sought, in addition to applying financial emergency remedies; that it is better to help a family budget its income wisely than to pay rent for them; that it is better to help untangle domestic difficulties than to financially support broken homes, though more time and effort is required on the part of the staff visitor. The service rendered by the social service department of this organization cannot be measured in dollars and cents.

Edward Y. Hartshorne read the treasurer's report. During the many years Mr. Hartshorne has served so faithfully as treasurer, the budget has grown from $800 to $16,000. Mr. Hartshorne stated that the organization had commenced the year with a serious financial handicap. There was but a balance from 1928 of $1 and a temporary loan had to be made. In spite of this, the deficit was made up by the finance committee so that the books were closed January 1 with a balance on hand.

A program of music was rendered by the orchestra of the Lower Merion High School under the leadership of Bruce C. Beach.

Following the meeting, a reception was tendered Mr. and Mrs. Gadsden. The hospitality of the ladies of St. Mary's Church, who served delicious refreshments, was greatly appreciated.

An interesting and entertaining two act play called "Hope" will be given by the members of the Church School at the Baptist Church of the Evangel, Narberth, on Friday evening, February 7, at 8:15.

Delinquent Taxes

Some time ago there appeared in this paper a signed story calling attention to the evils and injustice resulting from the sale of properties for past due county taxes without the knowledge of the holder of the property. This situation, while flagrantly unjust to those caught in its meshes, has been rectified by recent legislation requiring notification of the present owner of the property, so that it may not be sold out from under him without his knowledge.

Now comes announcement of a new act of the State Legislature, under the terms of which properties may be liened after May 1, if taxes for the year immediately preceding remain unpaid.

Tax Collectors and Township Treasurers (who perform this office in Townships) are not required by law to give the public notification of any such new laws as the one described above. It is to the credit of Narberth and Lower Merion that men of the public-spirited caliber of Edwin P. Dold and Peter C. Hess are occupying these offices and pursuing their duties to the advantage of every resident.

It may not be superfluous to note again that in the opinion of the County Commissioners there is no "unseated" land in Narberth or in Montgomery County for that matter. Hence the new law, specifying "seated" lands, is applicable to all properties in the County, improved or unimproved.

Rural

Some residents of Wynnewood, Narberth, Merion and Cynwyd are determined that in days to come the present beauties of rural sections shall be something more than pleasing visions of a Don't You Remember Association of Old-Timers.

The Penn Valley Association, recently organized, is a heartening sign of the times. It is frankly the beginning of a society for the preservation of the beautiful in nature. It is composed of practical men who, while thoroughly appreciating the value of good motorcars, smooth roads and adequate filling stations, yet know that a rustic bridge over a purling stream is sometimes of more importance than a six-car pike and a gasoline palace.

Even as the highways of the future will avoid the centers of large cities—and the trend is already in that direction—so will they in the future avoid disturbing the charms of small communities, residential spots that seek to preserve the original atmosphere of rustic peace and calm.

There is going to be greater distinction between highways and byways; highways for speed and byways for the leisurely appreciation of natural beauties.

The Penn Valley Association is but anticipating the wisdom of the next generation.—Evening Public Ledger.

Community Bible Class Meetings to Be Continued

A renewed invitation is extended to all residents of Narberth to attend the Community Bible Class which is conducted in the Presbyterian Church each Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock. This class was started several years ago and has the privilege of the exceptional teaching of Miss M. C. Harrison, of the staff of the Philadelphia School of the Bible, and one who has a thoroughly grounded knowledge of the Bible and an unusual grasp of its teachings.

The lessons taken up this term are in the book of Matthew, and are thus of particular interest to Sunday School teachers, but will be found equally helpful to any who are, seeking to know the truth as revealed in the Scriptures and who would like to understand the well-established truths for the authenticity of the Bible and its fundamental doctrines. A discussion period is provided and questions answered and it is hoped that many will take advantage of this unusual opportunity.

Meet Wednesday

The Women's Missionary Society of the Narberth Presbyterian Church will hold its monthly meeting Wednesday, February 5, at 2:30 o'clock in the church. The devotional exercises will be in charge of Mrs. Arthur S. Digby. The topic of "Our Medical Forces at Work" will be discussed by Mrs. Bruce Carey.

UNCLE CY'S COLUMN

Country Life.

The truth will come out sooner or later to those of you who have wondered or worried about my identity or residence. Very well I do live in the "near country" just beyond the suburbs, having tired of the compromise half-hearted way of suburbanites. People ask me why anyone wants to live in the country. Let me tell you!

(1) So that friends can never find the house without maps and a few telephone calls en route.

(2) So that telephone and electric wires go down in each storm and return us to real primitive living.

(3) So that roads get hub deep be March and discourage everyone from driving along.

(4) So that water pipes freeze at every cold snap.

(5) So that one can use a coal range in the kitchen in the middle of summer—there being no gas.

(6) So that we are so far from fire plugs that nothing could be saved from a conflagration.

(7) So that we are too far from any post office to enjoy special delivery privileges.

(8) So that we can get all our mail a day late by rural delivery.

(9) So that we may burn tons of coal trying to keep a naturally cold house warm.

(10) So that it may be dark when we go to town of a working day and dark when we return at night.

(11) So that household help that is willing to stay so far from the city is not worth having.

(12) So that rats may infest old barns and buildings and ramble around in the walls of the house.

(13) So that we may lose money trying to raise crops.

(14) So that drives will wash out and let motors scrape off their crank cases.

(15) So that we shall always have a long dreary drive home from almost anywhere.

There are, however, certain advantages, to wit:

(1) No door-to-door solicitors

(2) No rattling of busses or trolleys.

(3) No casual appeals for aid from neighbors.

(4) No handbills.

(5) Plenty of room for everything

(6) Sunsets and even sunrises.

(7) Good air, good water.

(8) Only the visitors we want.

(9) Flowers to cultivate.

(10) A mint bed (Huh, huh!)

(11) Perpetual delivery from loneliness.

(12) A place to throw razor blades

(13) Great open fireplaces.

(14) A stable almost at the door.

(15) Congenial neighbors without exception.

Response.

I suppose that some of you realize that this column is now syndicated which is the ambition of every columnist. It appears in the Main Liner, where it was first born with a dissertation on hitch hikers, and in Our Town, Narberth. That is the total syndication. Wrong again; it is also appearing in the News of Bala-Cynwyd. That's quite something for a country columnist.

At any rate, a Narberth gentleman tendered a contribution that was too long for one column or even two, yes even three. The editor (or maybe pl editors) decided that their space was too valuable to give more than one column to Uncle Cy's playground, so the manuscript was returned to the contributor. Being a man of his convictions, and feeling that his message was important, he returned it and had it run in toto in the Narberth paper as a paid advertisement—that is courage! I have a notion that it establishes a precedent in enthusiastic response to columnist chaff. If Jay House can beat it, let him state how. That seems like a four aces and a joker hand.

Come On In.

It's about time for some of the old seasoned contributors to come in for a little plunge. You're dared to start something. Come on in!

Bowles Tells Realtors of Main Line's Advantages

Joseph L. Bowles, executive secretary of the Ardmore Chamber of Commerce, was the speaker at the Philadelphia Real Estate Board at a recent luncheon.

"The Main Line has become or is rapidly becoming the most select of all suburban neighborhoods in the United States," Mr. Bowles told the Philadelphia realtors. "The Main Line from City Line through Wayne is growing faster than any other section in the entire State of Pennsylvania. During the last ten years building operations in Lower Merion Township numbered 8931, while the value of the improvements during that time amounted to $71,292,969."

It is not just a visionary idea, Mr. Bowles said, to believe that the Main Line will become a second Fifth Avenue. It is the tremendous per capita buying power of the section, greater than any other section in Philadelphia or adjoining territory, the speaker pointed out, that is attracting concerns like Strawbridge & Clothier to the Main Line.

Main Line Facts

Merion Meeting House, the oldest house of worship in the State of Pennsylvania, was built in 1695. The land was sold to the congregation for the sum of $2.50. The building's original stone walls are covered up with a coat of stucco added in 1829.

Two pegs are pointed out within the building upon which William Penn is supposed to have hung his hat when preaching there to a Welsh congregation, many of whom could not understand him. The stone horse block, used by the Friends in dismounting from their horses, may still be seen in the wall in front of the building.

ORDER BY NAME

You would never go into a store to buy a radio, piano, a cigar or a pack of cigarettes without specifying the particular make or brand you wanted. You buy most commodities by name because you know that particular name stands for a certain standard product, the quality of which does not vary.

When you order Jeddo-Highland coal you know you will receive an Anthracite which has held to an unchanging high standard in quality since 1858. Ask for it, and look for the certification stamp on your delivery ticket which is the producer's guarantee of the permanency of this quality.

Haverford Coach Accepts New Post

Harman to Go to University of South at Sewanee Next Year.

SCULL IS GOING ALSO

Harvey Harman, Haverford College football coach for the past eight years, has accepted a coaching position with the University of the South at Sewanee, Tenn., beginning next September.

Harman has had considerable success as mentor of the Haverford eleven since his first year in the Main Line College. His teams have always been leaders in their class, and his last year was probably his best, when his team lost only one game. In addition to winning teams at Haverford, Harman has turned out six championship track teams at Lower Merion Junior High School. On four occasions, his relay teams, representing the Orange and Black of Lower Merion, have won the half-mile relay at the Penn Relays.

Along with Harman, as his backfield coach, will go Paul Scull, of Bala, former Lower Merion High all-around athlete, and captain of the University of Pennsylvania football team in 1928.

Sewanee was once the Queen of the South in the matter of football supremacy, but in recent years has more or less fallen by the wayside. With two such tutors to mould the fine material available in that section of the country the mountain school should come into her own again.

Patrol of Girl Scout Troop Responsible For Fostering of Community Spirit, Wynnewood Leader Says

Community spirit is born oftentimes and fostered, in a patrol of a Girl Scout Troop, according to Mrs. Albert Cohen, of Wynnewood, a member of the Philadelphia Girl Scout Council and former Director of the Washington Scouts, who spoke before the Main Line Leaders' Association at a supper last Wednesday evening at the Cottage Tea Room in Bryn Mawr. Mrs. Walter Janney was hostess at the supper, which was attended by officers of the seventeen Main Line troops and members of the Main Line committee.

"Until a girl joins a troop" went on Mrs. Cohen, "she oftentimes thinks entirely in terms of herself or her own family. However, the minute she becomes a patrol member, she begins to think of doing things for the benefit of the group of eight, forgetting self. The next step to thinking of others in the community is easy."

Mrs. Cohen also brought out the fact that Scouting was founded on the principles of knighthood and chivalry and that the foremost aims of Girl Scouting are therefore to impart and encourage high ideals.

"To develop individuality in her girls," went on Mrs. Cohen, "is a Captain's constant thought, too, and a Scout is urged at all times to express herself in merit badge work and various troop events."

Though knots and signaling appear to a layman to be of little value to a girl, they were shown to be of great importance in the teaching of rudimentary handicraft and eye and mind control.

There are thirteen National camps throughout the United States, the speaker brought out, and it is a wonderfully broadening experience for leaders and Scouts to attend them.

A Leaders' training course is being held at the Narberth Scout House each Wednesday afternoon in January from 4 to 6, and Mrs. Nelson A. Warwick, of Wynnewood, president of the Leaders' Association, announced that the Philadelphia nature expert, Mrs. Hershey Thomas, of Chestnut Hill, would be the guest instructor at the next two meetings.

American Education Turns Out 'Human Robots'

Education in America has failed, according to Dr. W. W. Comfort, president of Haverford College, who addressed members of the Matinee Musical Club Tuesday at a luncheon at the Bellevue-Stratford.

This country has placed an over-emphasis on vocational education, and as a result is turning out "human robots" who rush madly about seeking pleasure, but failing to find real spiritual satisfaction, the educator asserted.

"Education in America has failed for three reasons," Dr. Comfort told the women. "First of all educators have new material to work on every year and have to start fresh at the bottom in seeking perfection. Second, there are so many seeking an education here who are not capable of obtaining one. Thirdly, there is a complete lack of any substantial agreement here on what education really means."

"There is a tendency to vocationalize all education here. But vocational education is narrow and intense and strictly limited. It is possible to be successful in a vocation and yet to be a complete dumbbell in all other ways."

"This type of vocational education does not fit men for living. We are running the chance here of losing all capacity of enjoying our leisure time."

"In America we have to go out, dash, or rush about to spend a lot of money before we are conscious of any kind of pleasure."

Lower Merion Five Engulfs Chester

Visitors Score Two Field Goals in the Entire Contest.

Lower Merion High School won her league match with Chester High last Friday night in the Junior High School gymnasium by an overwhelming score of 63 to 12.

Chester had no chance to score points as Captain Warren Lockwood and his fast-cutting teammates kept possession of the ball most of the time. Occasionally they left an opening through which an opponent would take a chance and drop one for a two-pointer.

Only one field goal was rung up by the visitors during the first half and that came as the first score of the game about half a minute after the tap-off. During the final period the visitors managed to drop in their second and final goal from the field. The other eight points scored by the boys from Chester came as free shots. Lockwood, Pennypacker and Turner each ran wild with their shooting antics and piled up a huge lead before the visiting team could do anything about it.

The game was somewhat loosely played and numerous tricks were pulled in the background by some of the visiting players to try and stop the heavy scoring, but to no avail.

Speaks on Aviation

Robert E. Lenton, president of the Philadelphia Airport Development Company, was the speaker at the weekly luncheon of the Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary Club on Tuesday noon. The vast development of flying during the past few years was traced with especial reference to regular routes. The speaker stressed the idea that aviation is still in the experimental stage.

Attendance Increases

Increased attendance at the Child Health Centre held weekly on Wednesday afternoons in the Woman's Community Club Room in Elm Hall has been noted. At this week's period eight babies were examined and advice given the mothers. Mrs. H. C. Banks and Mrs. Nelson Rowley were the Club members in attendance.

Miss Patience Wohler, of Narbrook Park, visited Mr. and Mrs. James K. Bowman, of Harrisburg, last week-end.

HEAT

Measured as Accurately as the Ingredients of Your Recipe!

Good cooking may be a fine art, and good cooks "to the manner born." But with a book of recipes and a modern Gas Range, one needn't be a skilled chef to bake and roast to the admiration (and appreciation) of the whole family.

Modern cookery doesn't call for a "dash" of this, "a pinch" of that, "season to taste" and "bake until done." Ingredients are now measured out according to recipe with accurate utensils. And with Oven Heat Control, HEAT becomes the final ingredient.

The Women's Foreign Missionary Society of the Narberth Methodist Episcopal Church will meet on Monday, February 3, at 2:30 in the basement of the church.

Lutheran Play Well Received; To Be Repeated Next Friday

"The Crossroads Store" is the title of the comedy given last Friday night by the Senior Luther League of the Lutheran Church of Narberth before a large and appreciative audience. It is the story of a country store of the "Tompkins Corner" type. Good-natured Larry, the proprietor, isn't making enough money to marry his sweetheart, Babs, and is just about to sell out to some "slick city feller" when a pump driver, while drilling for water, strikes oil, and—"all's well that ends well." The comedy, carried mostly by Jim Stevens and Bud Compton, was keen and pointed. The several solos and choruses added the variety.

Mr. Bailly presented the second-half of the program by showing motion pictures of the picnic last summer and several reels of comedy. It was a case of "see yourself as others see you" and was a reminder of a day well spent.

Because of the many favorable comments and the many requests for a repetition the young people will repeat it under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid, next Thursday evening, February 6, at 8:15 o'clock.

Immigration to Be Topic at L. M.-Narberth Council

Mrs. A. W. Karnell will be the speaker at the meeting of the Lower Merion-Narberth Council of Republican Women at the Township Building, Ardmore, on Tuesday afternoon, February 4, at 3 P. M. Her subject will be "America's Future and the Immigration Problem."

Mrs. Karnell, who is an eloquent speaker, is a Norwegian by birth, but has devoted herself to the problems of citizenship of her adopted country. She has worked under government supervision at Ellis Island and has come into close contact with all phases of the immigration problem.

The program of the Women's Community Club on February 4 will be in charge of the conservation chairman. Mrs. Mary Livingston, and the speaker will be her son, Philip Livingston Phil, as his friends prefer to call him is a Narberth boy, and a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania. Although a busy editor and publisher his hobby has always been the study of bird life. He is a member of the National Society of Ornithologists and a fellow in the D. V. O. C. He knows his subject thoroughly and whatever he may discuss in his conservation talk will be profitable and interesting. The "Open House for Husbands Night" is just a few weeks off now and interesting plans are being perfected to make it the gala club night of the year.
